Psychology Field Study Program

Are you a junior or senior looking to explore a career path and give back to the community? Field study might be the answer! All students interested in applying to the Psychology Field Study Program must attend one of the following virtual Field Study Info Sessions for a complete explanation of the program, application process, and info about available internships. After attending a session, students will be sent a link to the application. Admitted students will begin field study in Winter 2023 and continue through spring quarter.

Monday, Oct 17, 4 - 5PM
Tuesday, Oct 18, 12 - 1PM
Wednesday, Oct 19, 2:40 - 3:40PM
Thursday, Oct 20, 2 - 3PM

Applications for the Winter/Spring 2023 cohort are due by 8AM on Wednesday, October 26th!

Sign up for a session at: tinyurl.com/fieldstudyinfo

For more info, visit: https://psychology.ucsc.edu/undergraduate/field-study
Field study is a 5-unit upper division psychology course (PSYC 193) taken twice on a P/NP basis. One quarter of PSYC 193 counts as an upper division elective for both the Psychology and Cognitive Science majors. Two quarters meets the advanced course requirement for the Intensive concentration.