NOW ACCEPTING APPLICATIONS FOR
PSYCHOLOGY 191A
TEACHING COLLEGE PSYCHOLOGY

Psych 191A is a course that provides undergraduates an opportunity to participate in planning and teaching Psych 1, Intro to Psychology.

Increase teaching and public speaking skills!

Helps you prepare for the GRE!

Make connections with faculty – could get a letter of recommendation!

Looks great on a graduate school application or a resume!

Petition to use 191A as an upper division major requirement!

NECESSARY FALL AVAILABILITY:

- Attend a one-time orientation scheduled during the first week of Winter quarter, exact time TBD
- Attend the weekly Psych 191A teaching session: Fridays, 9 am-12 noon
- Attend Psych 1 Lectures: Tuesday/Thursday 9:50 -11:25 am (10 mins pre/post class is requested)
- Supervise one section of Psychology 1

ELIGIBLE STUDENTS WILL BE:

- declared Psych major and have successfully completed several Psych courses or
- declared Cognitive Science major and have successfully completed some Psychology courses other than Cognitive Psychology, (example, PSYC 1, PSYC 10 or upper division courses)

To APPLY submit the following items to the Psych Department:

1. Name, phone number, and email address.
2. A statement describing your interest and qualifications to become an instructional assistant. Please keep in mind that your statement will be considered as a writing sample and a part of your application (one page single spaced maximum)
3. Unofficial UCSC transcript. Transfer students: submit unofficial transcripts of psychology courses taken at your community college.
4. A brief recommendation from a Psychology faculty member emailed to psyadv@ucsc.edu.

Applications should be addressed to:
Chantell Padilla, Psych Dept., Social Sciences 2, Room 273 or psyadv@ucsc.edu

All application materials are due on October 26, 2016